Raka:

Welcome to the Open English World community.

We have a number of excellent teachers who can really help you learn English quickly. Feel free to "Try a Teacher," and then once you have found a teacher you like, you can purchase a series of lessons. We also have a number of excellent activities, such as the Weekly Idiom, Business Jargon, and Talk English. Feel free to check those out.

Hello Raka:

I am not sure whether you have progressed and selected one of our Excellent panel of Teachers. One of my core skills is teaching "Business English" and I would invite you to see my website <http://www.towerwebsites.com/azurelanguage> for more background information. I have had an international business career with one of the leading international consulting firms and in addition teach the MBA program at a leading Canadian University. I would be delighted to assist you with your business English learning objectives. :)
