
Help me

Posted by Jade - 2006/05/30 14:24

Hi everybody. I have some doubts about these classes. I would like to take conversational classes not grammar or something like this. I want to know if I need a microphone for speaking with you or if I can take classes by telephone. Please some of you reply and give me an idea of your method for teaching. I know I can take a free lesson with one of you but I would like to choose the best for me. I was take other lesson in school but i didn't like it.

Jade:

Thank you for your questions and welcome to Open English World.

First off, our teachers can focus on whatever you would like to learn. Therefore, if you want to learn conversational English, our teachers will be more than happy to practice speaking English with you. Because the lessons on 1-on-1, private lessons, you can also progress at your own rate.

We highly recommend that you have a headset with a microphone for taking lessons so that you can hear and be heard. We also recommend using Skype, MSN Messenger, or Yahoo Messenger because these calls are free, unlike the telephone.

I therefore recommend that you give it try by interviewing a teacher. I think that you will find learning with us fun. Just click on the "Try a Teacher" button.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any more questions.
